SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY (U 902 E) COMMENTS ON PROPOSED DECISION REGARDING AMENDED PETITION
FOR MODIFICATION OF DECISION 04-06-014

I.
INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

In accordance with Rule 14.3 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission (the “Commission”), and Judge Mattson’s grant of a one-day filing extension due to the fires in San Diego and the unavailability of personnel essential to the filing, San Diego Gas & Electric Company (“SDG&E”) hereby submits these comments concerning the proposed decision of ALJ Mattson, Opinion on Amended Petition for Modification of Decision 04-06-014 Regarding Standard Terms and Conditions, issued on October 1, 2007 (the “PD”).

The PD responds to the amended petition for modification (“APFM”) filed by Pacific Gas & Electric Company (“PG&E”) and Southern California Edison Company (“SCE”) seeking a reduction in the number of non-modifiable standard terms and conditions (“STCs”) required to be included in renewable portfolio standard (“RPS”) contracts. The APFM requests that certain non-modifiable STCs adopted in D.04-06-014 be eliminated or re-classified as modifiable and also requests adoption of a clear and expedited process for review of subsequent changes to STCs.

The PD grants in part the relief requested, but rejects the request to eliminate or make modifiable certain provisions that are currently non-modifiable. Included in the provisions that, according to the PD, will remain non-modifiable is the Eligibility provision, which relates to qualification of the relevant project as an Eligible Renewable Energy Resource certified by the California Energy Commission (“CEC”), and qualification of the project’s output under the requirements of the California RPS program.<sup>1/</sup>

As SDG&E explains below, the PD fails to take into account the practical implications of the decision to require sellers to represent and warrant that the relevant project is RPS-eligible. Preservation of the non-modifiable status of this provision may significantly hamper sellers’ ability to finance their RPS projects. Accordingly, the provision should be made modifiable or, if it continues to be treated as non-modifiable, should be revised as proposed herein.

II. DISCUSSION

The PD rejects the proposal to eliminate or make modifiable the Eligibility STC and revises the term to provide as follows:

Seller, and, if applicable, its successors, represents and warrants that throughout the Delivery Term of this Agreement: (i) the Project qualifies, is certified by the CEC, and, in the event of changes in the law continues to be certified by the CEC, as an Eligible Renewable Resource; and (ii) the Project’s output delivered to the Buyer qualifies under the requirements of the California Renewable Portfolio Standard.<sup>2/</sup>

SDG&E notes that requiring the seller to represent and warrant that its project will remain RPS-eligible creates the potential for default in the event that the seller is unable to meet this condition due to a change in law. This may place an insurmountable change in law risk on some developers. The PD states: “[I]n the event of a change in law we expect the project to remain eligible, as determined by the CEC . . .”<sup>3/</sup> While SDG&E does not challenge the notion that projects must remain RPS-eligible in order for the utility to receive RPS credit for the generation received under the contract, it submits that it is not reasonable to place the seller in breach of the contract if it cannot reasonably comply with the eligibility rules as a result of a change in law. Rather, sellers should be required only to use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with eligibility criteria that change after the date of execution of the contract.

Some changes in law may be material and impossible for certain projects to comply with. For example, if a CEC certified wind project located in Arizona signs a twenty (20) year power purchase agreement (“PPA”) with SDG&E and the CEC subsequently modifies its eligibility rules so that Arizona projects are no longer eligible, it would not be reasonable to put that project in default for failure to comply with the eligibility warranty. The same would be true for changes in eligibility rules based on fuel resource type. If a project is financed and built using a hybrid fuel technology that ceases to qualify as an “Eligible Energy Renewable Resource” by the CEC at any point during the term of the PPA, the project should not be required to expend unanticipated and significant capital expenditures to modify all fuel related equipment in order to avoid a default of the PPA.

SDG&E's concern is that financing parties may not lend money to developers of renewable projects if there is a risk of default based on unforeseeable changes in eligibility rules. Accordingly, SDG&E hereby respectfully requests that the Commission either (a) make the Eligibility STC modifiable; or (b) amend the Eligibility STC to provide that the project must continue to comply with the eligibility requirements, but that in the event a change in law occurs after execution of the contract, such change in law would not result in a breach of the contract where the generator undertakes commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the change in law. Should the Commission elect the latter approach, SDG&E proposes the following revisions to the Eligibility STC:

Seller, and, if applicable, its successors, represents and warrants that throughout the Delivery Term of this Agreement: (i) the Project qualifies, is certified by the CEC, and, ~~in the event of changes in law continues to be certified by the CEC, as an Eligible Renewable Energy Resource~~ continues to qualify for certification under the rules for CEC certification as an Eligible Renewable Energy Resource; and (ii) the Project's output delivered to Buyer qualifies under the requirements of the California Renewables Portfolio Standard. To the extent a change in law occurs after execution of this Agreement that causes this representation and warranty to be materially false or misleading, it shall not be an Event of Default if Seller has used commercially reasonable efforts to comply with such change in law.

SDG&E submits that modifying the language of the Eligibility provision so as to prevent placing the seller in breach of contract in the event it is unable, using commercially reasonable efforts, to maintain RPS eligibility will alleviate the potential obstacle to project financing described above.

V.
CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above, SDG&E recommends adoption of the modifications described herein.

Respectfully submitted this 23rd day of October, 2007.
